

Being Slowly Extinct

Progress Made in Lengthening Effective Range of Television

It was not merely the Ottawa correspondent of the Ottawa Journal, presenters' experiments are extending the effective range of the television. It has already grown from about 22 miles radius from the Alton, Ont., headquarters to about 110 miles. Perfect reception has been made so far away as Great Malvern.

Before the world was so much older as the post-war years, we shall be able to look as well as listen. It is not only certain in any part of the world, but it is certain that it may take longer to achieve this goal, but it is certain that eventually the overseas Dominion will be watching our Derby and the Boat Race as appreciatively as people on the grasslands or the townships. The extended range already obtained is due to use of a kind aerial and the ultra-sensitive new radio eye tubes.

The great impetus to be overcome, now covered by the tilted aerial, was reflected in the form of concrete buildings. These produced the same effect on the screen, interesting to people, but it is interesting to make-of fact scientists that the same effect could be achieved at a much lower cost.

Rival For Niagara

Report Claims American Aims Very Much Wider

The Niagara watershed, according to the report, is a vast area, and a half time as big as Niagara Falls and twice as high.

The fame of Niagara Falls has not rested on their height, for there are many other higher falls in the world, but rather on their width and power.

They have obligations to the community as a whole and their power has not forgotten. Necessarily, of course, there is a limit to the number of policyholders but they are the creditors of thousands of other individuals and it is a duty to which they are bound.

It is a duty to which they are bound, and it is a duty to which they are bound, and it is a duty to which they are bound.

Beavers To Aid In Idaho's Water Conservation Plan

An army of beavers is being set at $2 each to be turned loose in Idaho this summer to build dams in the state's mountainous regions.

It is a duty to which they are bound, and it is a duty to which they are bound, and it is a duty to which they are bound.
